

How to get to and from the Athens City Pool from Nelsonville.

1

You can board the Athens Public Transit bus, Line 7N, anywhere on its route in Nelsonville. Nelsonville is a “hail zone”, so as long as you are on the same side of the street as the bus, you can wave at it, and it will pull over for you as soon as it’s safe! The buses are completely free until April, 2027, so don’t worry about paying a fare! As a reminder, Line 7N comes to Nelsonville on the even hours, so 8am, 10am, 12pm, 2pm, 4pm, and 6pm.

2

From there, you’ll ride the bus into Athens all the way to Baker Center/Mulberry Street in Uptown. It will arrive at the top of the hour. You can then hop off the bus, and get on Line 3. Line 3 will then head through Uptown Athens, and go out East State street past the Athens City Pool. When the bus drives under the highway overpass past Bob Evans, let the driver know that you’ll be getting off at the next stop by either telling them, or gently pulling the yellow pull cord located by the windows on either side of the bus.

3

To get back to Nelsonville, simply do the same thing, but in reverse. Once you’re done at the City Pool, walk out to the bus shelter on East State in front of the pool and the Community Center, and wait to board Line 3 to get back to Baker Center. From there, you will transfer back to 7N, and it will take you back to Nelsonville!

4

With Line 7N only going to Nelsonville on the even hours, you must board Line 3 on its 5pm run at the latest, otherwise you will not be able to get back to Nelsonville. This means that the latest you can board Line 3 at the bus shelter is 5:09. It is recommended that you be there at least 5 minutes in advance, to be sure you don’t miss the bus!
